

Introduction to the African Labour Law Society

History

During the World Labour Law Congress of the International Society for Labour and Security Law (ISLSSL) in September 2015 concerns were expressed as to the absence of a wider African voice. After an inaugural workshop in July 2016, and with the backing of the International Labour Organisation, some South African law firms and other organisations, the African Labour Society was started in early 2017. The Society now has 220 members from 19 different African countries.

The ALLS resolved that the idea of a wider voice of African Labour Law practitioners and scholars should be taken forward.

The Constitution of the Society was finalised at the 2nd AGM in September 2018 , and can be found on the website.

The Management committee is made up Prof Stefan Van Eck, Dr Pamhidzai Bamu, Mr Ruben Philander, Mr Moemedi Tafa, Ms Keshni Naicker, Ms Rutendo Mudarikwa, Mrs Clare Fincham and Mrs Georgina Ogalo.
